REVIEW OF MARKETS FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Stocks, Money, Exchange, Bonis, Grain, Cotton, Provisions, Etc.

These Are Closing Sales Each Day.

New York, Dec. 28.—The history of today's stock market does not materially differ from that of succeeding days for a long time past. That is to say, selling to take profits came on the market like a flood in the opening dealings, and the professional bears, constantly watchful for the first sign of the reaction, which they know must inevitably come, offered prices down in an attempt to dislodge long stock. Their efforts were defeated, as they had been on many previous occasions, by the supporting orders which came into the stocks and new points of strength which were confidently marshaled from the stocks which have not yet enjoyed any considerable rise. The point wherein today's market differed from those of recent stock exchange listory was that the profit taking was remewed in force before the close and the unsettled condition continued until trading ceased, prices at that time showing wide declines from the best and in some cases being well below last night. There were no remaining points of strength to sustain the market in this late break, the lingenuity of the traders having apparently failed them or their industry in seeking out new stocks being overcome by very weariness. Once again, the off recurring cry of a year-end squeeze in the money market was raised this morning in connection with the opening attacks on stocks. Loans today on the stock exchange carry over until Monday, but this fact coupled with the year-end requirements failed to create a ripple of trouble in the call loan market. Only at the opening was six per cent. asked, and the rate declined from that point. A strong bank statement seems assured tomorrow, in view of the gain by the banks during the week from sub-treasury operations of $2,575,000, and an estimated gain on the interior express movement of nearly $3,000,000 more. The failure of the money market to harden was the occasion of the strong raily from the opening break, in which prevailed during the middle tool of the session was the inconstancy of the strength and demand for speci desire to convest paper profits securely into cash.

The demand for bonds was not so conspicuous as yesterday, but there were strong points in the market. Total sales par value, $5,925,000.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

New York, Dec. 28.—Quite general buying of the near positions and absence of support in the late cotton months with selling pressure from abroad caused a widening of the parky between these respective options in today's market. Taken as a whole speculation was feeble. So far as investment business was concerned very little was done. Room traders were handleapped by conflicting reports in circulation concerning the long and short interests in the January option, now the center of attraction. On the opening the market was quite with prices 1 to 4 points lower under light room and some foreign selling, all based upon the easier turn of the Liverpool market and under more liberal showing of receipts, Soon after the call near month shorts took fright on rumors that January was to be forced considerably higher. The claim that 20,000 bales December notices had been issued and easerly pathered in by export and spot cotton houses helped to give the market a steadler undertone. Prices readily responded to the change in the feeling and as Liverpool quickly ralled to conform with our firmness a substantial net rise was soon recorded. January climbed to 9.62 and December was a hedge against large holdings in the winter positions, with the result that the typions tapered off slowly. Early atternoon developments were discouraging, large estimates for tomorrow's receipts leading to selling. December and January shorts were restless, however, and covered on all the easier periods. The close was quiet, with prices 4 points lower to 8 points higher.

COAL TIME

is around. A cold Winter is pre-dicted—better lay in a good supply. It is at piecesant to wait a day or two for coal in the middle of winter. If you come to us that will never happen, be-cause we pride ourselves on our prompt delivery. But you may not be one of our patrons. We would like to have you of course, and are sure that after one trial you would never go elsewhere.
